

The Berlin Network of Labor Market Research (BeNA) presents

Prof. Lowell J. Taylor, Ph.D.
Carnegie Mellon University

"Three Lectures on Inequality"

BeNA Lecture Series 2017

Venue: DIW Berlin

October 19 – 20, 2017

About the speaker

Lowell J. Taylor is H. John Heinz III Professor of Economics at the Heinz College at Carnegie Mellon University. He is also a Senior Fellow at NORC at the University of Chicago, Research Associate at the NBER Labor Studies, and IZA Research Fellow. Among other former appointments, he previously served as a Senior Economist with President Clinton's Council of Economic Advisors and was a Visiting Professor at the University of California, Berkeley.

Professor Taylor's research interests include labor markets, demography, health economics, and incentives in organizations. He has published in numerous leading journals, such as American Economic Review, Economic Journal, Quarterly Journal of Economics, and Review of Economics and Statistics.

Besides being a distinguished researcher, Lowell Taylor is also an excellent teacher. He won the top teaching award at Heinz College three times.

Program

Lecture 1: "Skill-Biased Technical Change and Labor Market Inequality", Thursday, 19/10/2017, 09:00-10:45

Lecture 2: "Economic Inequality: The Role of International Trade", Thursday, 19/10/2017, 11:15-12:45

Lecture 3: "Intergenerational Economic Mobility", Thursday, 19/10/2017, 14:15-15:45

Research talk: "The Intergenerational Transmission of Human Capital: Evidence from the Golden Age of Upward Mobility in the U.S." (with David Card and Ciprian Domnisoru), Friday, 20/10/2017, 14:15-15:45

Venue

DIW Berlin, Mohrenstr. 58, 10117 Berlin (Mitte)
Schumpeter Hall (first floor)

Registration

The lectures and the research talk will be in English, are free of charge, and are open to the interested public. Please register no later than Oct 1, 2017 by sending an email to bena2017@diw.de

Professor Taylor will be available for office hours. If you would like to meet him during the office hours, please contact Anna Hammerschmid (ahammerschmid@diw.de).

Organizers

Sascha Drahs sdrahs@diw.de
Anna Hammerschmid ahammerschmid@diw.de

Additional information

BeNA Website <http://www.labor-research.net>

The Berlin Network of Labor Market Research (BeNA) offers young labor market researchers working at universities and research institutions in Berlin and Potsdam a forum for the discussion and development of research projects. It is coordinated by young scholars from the supporting institutions:

WZB

Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin
für Sozialforschung