Call for Papers: BeNA Labor Economics Workshop
December 06, 2024, Berlin
Deadline for submissions: October 15, 2024

The one-day workshop provides young labor economists the chance to present and discuss their research. It provides a forum to meet and exchange with fellow doctoral students, post-docs and professors from the field of labor economics. The workshop is targeted at PhD students and aims to facilitate exchange between junior and senior academics. This year, we are happy to announce that Han Ye (University of Mannheim) and Jean-Victor Alipour (LMU Munich) will be our excellent guest speakers at the workshop.

We are looking forward to submissions from PhD students working on topics in labor economics from a theoretical, empirical or experimental perspective. Equally, we encourage the submission of work in early stages. All projects presented at the BeNA workshop will be considered for the BeNA Innovative Research Award in the amount of €200.

The workshop will take place in the friendly atmosphere of the FU Berlin (Economics Department FU Berlin) on December 06, 2024.

If you want to present your work, please submit an abstract or a draft of your paper by October 15, 2024, to workshop@labor-research.net. The decision on your submission will be communicated by October 25, 2024.

BeNA Organizers:

Lukas Fink (FU Berlin)

Timo Haller (TU Berlin)
