

BeNA “Online” Labor Economics Workshop
May 20, 2021, Berlin

Berlin Network of Labor Market Research (BeNA)

CALL FOR PAPERS

Deadline for submissions: April 25, 2020

The one-day workshop provides young labor economists the chance to present and discuss their recent research. It provides a forum to meet and exchange with fellow doctoral students, post-docs and professors from the field of labor economics. The workshop is targeted at PhD students and aims to facilitate exchange between junior and senior academics. This year, we are happy to announce that Sulin Sardoschau (HU Berlin) and Erik Lindqvist (SOFI Stockholm) will be our excellent guest speakers at the workshop.

We are looking forward to submissions from PhD students from Berlin and Brandenburg working on topics in labor economics from a theoretical, empirical or experimental perspective. Equally, we encourage the submission of work in early stages. All projects presented at the BeNA workshop will be considered for the BeNA Innovative Research Award in the amount of €200.

Due to the current situation, the workshop will be held online on May 20, 2021.

If you want to present your work, please submit an abstract or a draft of your paper by April 25, to workshop@labor-research.net. The decision on your submission will be communicated by May 3, 2021.

You are also very welcome to attend the workshop without presenting your work. Please register for the workshop via email: workshop@labor-research.net.
